The House met at 12.05 o'clock A. M.

The SPEAKER (Aaron B. Hess) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. Martin W. Schweitzer, Ph. D., offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, as the hours of the closing of the session of this Legislature and the beginning of a new day has occurred, we thank Thee for Thy wonderful kindness towards the children of men. We thank Thee that Thou has prolonged and protected our unworthy lives. Above all we thank Thee for the lack of bitterness and for the fine fellowship during this session. We thank Thee for that wonderful brotherly love and for the divine fellowship that has been brought about during this session. We pray Thee that Thou wilt bless the Governor of this Commonwealth and all of his cabinet members. We pray Thee that Thou wilt bless the Speaker of the House and we thank Thee for his wise executive ability as our leader. We pray Thee that Thou wilt bless all the members from far and near, all of the employes and all who have taken part in these sessions, and have helped in them. If we have lacked in any way it was from the head and not from the heart. We pray that Thou wilt go with us to our various homes and that we may have the blessed satisfaction of knowing that we have done the very best that we could for the sake of the citizens of this Commonwealth. We are mindful of the fact that some of us may be taken away through the natural consequences of life, but if we have the privilege of returning to do Thy work here help us that we may be faithful and loyal. Bless all of the homes that are here represented; bless all of the loved ones and may we feel that as we have been together here so we may have pleasant memories of our associations and that we may continue that fellowship, and may all mercy and peace from God and every good thing be with us now and forevermore. Amen.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2424, (Senate Bill No. 714), entitled:

An Act relating to townships, regulating the annexation of parts of townships to boroughs and cities, and the incorporation of boroughs and cities within the limits of townships.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this is the so-called annexation bill introduced by Mr. Brandt in the Senate. As a matter of fact it is not an annexation bill because if this bill becomes a law it will destroy the right of any city to annex contiguous territory to that city and for that reason I am opposed to it. The bill provides that before any contiguous territory to a borough or to a third class city can be annexed that a majority of the whole township from which that section of the territory desiring to be annexed belongs will have to consent to the annexation. Now it is always the custom when there is an annexation of a particular piece of contiguous territory to a city or a borough that it does not consist of the whole township but merely of a small portion of it, but this bill goes very much farther and it affects the individual city or borough interested and the parties interested in the annexation and it will deprive those people of the right of having the privileges of the city including light, sewage and other privileges that a section of a township desires when it petitions for annexation. Because of these facts and because as I say it will not only defeat the right of self-determination but it will also defeat the bill now in the hands of the Governor, I ask the House to vote this bill down.

Mr. BALDRIGE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I think you have all heard my expressions against annexations by the larger cities, but this is one I think is very good, and the only one that I ever saw come into the House that I could see my way clear to vote for. I will tell you the purpose of this bill. This bill was introduced into the Senate by Senator Brandt of Allegheny County and it applies particularly to a condition in our own county and especially in my own district. This bill is for the protection of the interests of our rural public schools and the rural communities in our county as well as some of the other counties. We have such a situation like this in one of our large townships, where one part of the township close to the city of Pittsburgh is built up very closely and is very populous, and has control of most of the wealth of that township. If that part of the township can vote and take all of that wealth and population out of that township at the expense of the rest of it, and give it to the city of Pittsburgh, the balance of the township will not have sufficient funds to rebuild and renew their schools. It is only fair if a township or a part of a township is going to be annexed for all of the townsship to vote on the question, and I ask you to vote "aye" on this bill.

Mr. BART RICHARDS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in the closing hours of the session I do not wish to take up very much time nor to engage in much argument. In fairness to third class cities and to the boroughs and counties and in fairness to the annexation bill that has just been passed by the House and by the Senate, I think that some explanation is due. Mr. Bladrige has told you that this is an annexation bill. He has told you that it is designed to meet a particular condition. That is true. It has been designed selfishly to meet the condition in one township in Allegheny County and I submit to you that it is not within the province of this legislature to enact laws for the benefit of a certain section. I submit to this House that this Legislature should not enact legislation covering a particular condition when forty-one third class cities in this state have been fighting for years for a proper annexation bill. There was introduced in the Senate, at the request of the League of Third Class Cities, Senate Bill No. 415. It went through the Senate, it was amended and was subjected to the criticisms of the various boroughs, townships and the League of Third Class Cities; it came to the House and was subjected to another public hearing, and was amended to the entire satisfaction of every interest. This bill if passed would destroy every good thing that Senate Bill No. 415 has accomplished. Is one township in Allegheny to be set over against such cities as Wilkes-Barre, Allentown, Reading, New Castle, McKeesport and the rest of the forty-one third class cities? This bill is a nullification bill entirely, and I ask you to vote it down.

Mr. MUSMANNO. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I arise with regret to oppose remarks of my friend from Lawrence, Mr. Richards, wherein he states that this bill is designed for selfish purposes. The truth of the matter is that it is designed for the correcting of a situation that needs to be corrected. As the law now stands it is possible to have a situation such as this. You may have a township with various subdivisions in it, one of which, because of the concentration of population may desire annexation, and then another subdivision may be taken by a contiguous borough or city without consent of the remaining subdivisions of that township. Incidentally I have here a telegram from William Edward Armstrong, President of the Allegheny County Supervisors Association:

"George F. Howe, House of Reps., Harrisburg, Pa.

Senate Bill Number 714 representing the most vital and protective measure affecting the integrity of townships in general has passed the Senate and is now before the House for your consideration. May I most earnestly request you in behalf of the Allegheny County Association of Township Commissioners to kindly extend your personal support and influence in securing the passage of this important measure with the assurance of our sincere gratitude and appreciation.

(Sgd.) William Edward Armstrong
President Allegheny County Association of Township Commissioners."

This is a representative body and it seems to me, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, that on subjects that refer to townships we ought to follow out and support the ideas as reflected by those who are charged with the responsibility of township affairs and the gentleman referred to calls on us to vote for this bill.

One more word, and that is this. This bill brings into play the time proven fundamental principle of the referendum and it should be favorably acted upon.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Musmanno?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MUSMANNO. With pleasure, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman whether he is for or against this bill?

Mr. MUSMANNO. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I might say to the gentlemen from Philadelphia that if he had been awake he would know that I am for this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

1 student who had spent a year in the Graduate School of the University of Pennsylvania.
7 sons of graduates of the School of Medicine of the University of Pennsylvania. We always have admitted the sons of our Alumni.
1 son of a University of Pennsylvania Professor who was killed in the war.

Honorable Aaron B. Hess,
Speaker of the House,
Harrisburg, Penna.,

Dear Mr. Hess:

We do not need to wait until this Resolution Number 17 is passed by the Senate. We are glad to give Mr. Batchelor the information now.

The number of eligible applicants for admission to the Medical School last fall was 605. The number of these eligible applicants admitted was 64. Of these 64 admitted 58 are Pennsylvanians. The same proportion of Pennsylvania students applies to the entire enrollment of 1250 students in the institution this year. Practically all of our students are Pennsylvanians.

Very cordially yours,
Milton F. Stauffer,
Dean of the School of Commerce.

THE JEFFERSON MEDICAL COLLEGE OF PHILADELPHIA.

Office of the Dean
Tenth and Walnut Streets.

April 8, 1929.

Mr. E. F. White,
Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives,
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

Sir:

Pursuant to resolution adopted by the House of Representatives on March 11, 1929, requesting information with regard to applicants for admission to medical school, and those accepted for admission to the First Year Class of the Jefferson Medical College, and others, for the Session 1928-1929, I would submit the following:

Preceding the opening of the Session 1928-1929, there were a large number of requests for information, and a smaller number who partially complied with the requirements for admission. Altogether, 593 applicants were approved by the Department of Public Instruction as meeting the educational requirements for admission. Places in the class were awarded from this group, preference being given to those who had completed, in a highly satisfactory manner, more than the required amount of work in institutions of first grade, and who were personally highly recommended as probably having special aptitude for medical study. Altogether, 222 were offered places, and of the latter number, 181 actually matriculated, the difference being occasioned by the declination of the offer, either because of a change of plans, or because of the acceptance of a place in some other medical school. Of the 181 students who enrolled, 116 were from the State of Pennsylvania.

In interpreting the signficance of the large number of applications received by the various medical schools it should be born in mind that there is a large number of duplications of application. I know of one instance in which a student applied to thirty-one different medical schools and was declined by all of them; and another case in which a student applied to fourteen medical schools, and was accepted by all of them; showing that men of good abilities have no difficulty in securing admission to a first-grade medical school, whereas those lacking in desirable qualifications find it difficult to get in anywhere; which is, of course a satisfactory condition of affairs.

There are in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania approximately 11,000 physicians. Nearly one-fourth of these, (approximately 2650), are graduates of the Jefferson Medical College.

I incorporate herewith tables showing (1) geographical origin of the First Year Class, for the present Sessions. It will be observed that in each instance more than half of the number are students originating in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has been generous in the aid extended to medical schools in their endeavor to supply to the Commonwealth and to others men well-trained to care for the sick and injured. The pecuniary aid given has been most helpful, and while it constitutes, in this institution, less than one-seventh of the cost of instruction, it is nevertheless, of very great assistance.

If there is any further information with regard to our work or students which is desired by the Legislature, or any of its members, I shall be glad to furnish it at any time.

THE HAHNEMANN MEDICAL COLLEGE AND HOSPITAL OF PHILADELPHIA.

April 10th, 1929.

General Assembly of the State of Pennsylvania, Harrisburg, Penna.

Gentlemen:—

In reply to Resolution No. 17, File of the House of Representatives, I desire to report that 177 students were admitted to the freshman class of The Hahnemann Medical College and Hospital of Philadelphia on October 1st, and 108 of these students came from the State of Pennsylvania.

Eight hundred and thirty-four students applied for matriculation between November 1st, 1927, and October 1st, 1928.

Respectfully submitted,

W. A. PEARSON,
Dean.

WOMAN'S MEDICAL COLLEGE OF PENNSYLVANIA PHILADELPHIA.

The General Assembly of Pennsylvania,
House of Representatives,

Gentlemen:

Referring to your form No. 2371 with reference to Resolution No. 17 would reply as follows:

First—The number of students that sought admission to the Freshman Class of the Woman's Medical College of Pennsylvania in September, 1928—107.

Second—The number of medical students admitted to the Freshman Class of the Woman's Medical College of Pennsylvania in September, 1928—41.

Third—The number of such medical students admitted to the Freshman Class of the Woman's Medical College of Pennsylvania in September, 1928, who are residents of Pennsylvania—10.

I beg to call attention to the fact that the Woman's Medical College of Pennsylvania is the only medical school in the United States exclusively for the training of women students. Admission is therefore sought by students from all States who do not wish to enroll in a co-educational medical school or who are denied admission to co-educational schools because of the limited enrollment capacity therein.

(Sgd.) Martha Tracy, M. D., Dean.

Mr. E. F. White, Chief Clerk,
House of Representatives,
Harrisburg, Pa.

My dear Mr. White:

In accordance with Resolution adopted by the House of Representatives March 18th and concurred in by the Senate March 20th, and approved April 4th by the Governor, I submit the enclosed memorandum containing the information requested.

In assemblying or using this information, it should be borne in mind that a great many applying for admission to schools of Medicine in Pennsylvania apply to more than one school, so that the number of individuals actually not admitted will not be as great as the total number reported by the various schools of medicine.

I am,
Cordially yours,

L. B. Lenhart,
Secretary.

MEMORANDUM—ADMISSION TO SCHOOL OF MEDICINE UNIVERSITY OF PITTSBURGH, SEPTEMBER, 1928.

Note 1.—Total number of students registered in the School of Medicine 1928-29:

In addition to the above, 459 applications from non-residents of Pennsylvania were received but not considered by the Committee on Admissions on account of not being residents of Pennsylvania.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, some time ago there was presented in this House a resolution requesting certain information from the Medical Colleges of the State of Pennsylvania. The members of this House voted for that resolution. This morning in reply to that request for information the Clerk read certain replies from those Medical Schools and as I understand they will be spread upon the Journal of the House. I have not had much opportunity to study these replies but from what I have studied it would seem that very little more than 10 per cent of the applicants for admission to medical school are permitted to enter these medical schools.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I maintain it is unfair to permit a boy to spend some years in premedical schools and upon application for admission to medical schools just at the beginning of the term to receive a letter from the medical schools saying the class is full and he is refused permission to enter. I want to commend the study of these reports to the members of the House during the next two years, so that perhaps you will agree with me that this condition is unfair and some remedy may be found. If only 10 per cent of the boys who are qualified to enter medical school are permitted to enter, there must be some reason for it and perhaps the reason does not lie with the medical schools. I also want to commend the study of this information to the newspapers of the state of Pennsylvania in order that we may perhaps find some solution for the remedying of this situation.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman under his question of personal privilege will be spread at length upon the Legislative Journal.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the closing of this session brings with it many duties, special and otherwise. It now falls to my good luck to perform one of those duties which is otherwise. Every House, every Senate, every organization, always has in it some character that spreads good cheer, good luck and good fortune to those who serve earnestly, faithfully, carefully and intelligently.

We have in our House a man whom you all know and have known for many years. We all know that this man has never missed an opportunity to serve a friend. That man for a long time has occupied the role of Kris Kringle and Santa Claus to this House, and it is with great pleasure that I ask at this time that our good old Kris Kringle be given the Chair to perform his ceremonies. I present Doctor Heffernan of Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Doctor Heffernan.

PRESENTATION EXERCISES.

Mr. HEFFERNAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House ladies and gentlemen. After a very quiet evening I feel you are now prepared to hear the glad tidings. For a number of years, previous to the fifteen years that I have been here, the members of the House have willingly, without being asked to do so, contributed to a fund for the purpose of remembering those who have served them here on the floor of the House or given some service to them which has helped them in their affairs. This is no new idea of mine as it dates back about sixty years and the custom has been handed down until finally as my good friend Clint Sowers says, I seem to be the Santa Claus that comes down the chimney. I wish I could come down the chimney in the home of all of the members of the House and leave them something, and something real, but we are all coming back here and we are going to see you all here two years from now. It will be a great pleasure for me to stand here and present these remembrances to the officials and the clerks of this House with the good wishes of the members.

Mr. Speaker, the members of the House have thought so much of you that they felt that they would like to give you something that would adorn your home, not because of its value but because they wanted to give you something to remind you of them and at the same time to remind them how steadily and how hard you have kept them at work here until the hours of the morning.

This clock is for you. Every time it strikes you will understand and know that there is a feeling of love and good fellowship for you in our hearts, first because we have known you as one of the members and secondly because you have exercised your duties as Speaker of this House second to none who have served in Pennsylvania. That is all we have to say only that we give you our best greetings and our best affection and we know you will be standing there two years hence.

The SPEAKER. Ladies and gentlemen of the House, as I stand before you in these closing hours of the session, realizing that the time for a temporary parting is nigh, I can think of no pleasure to carry into the light of tomorrow that gives me more satisfaction, than to live over and over again in memory the days that we have spent here together during the last three months and a half.

Your help and your co-operation, which made of this session the success that I feel we can all claim it is, has been so splendid and your association and fellowship and contact has been so inspiring as to make this period the brightest spot in my life.

For the gift that you have bestowed upon me, I express to you my most hearty thanks. I shall esteem it most highly, as I shall always esteem the memory of each and every one of you. As I look into the years that are to come I can say no more than, God bless you.

Mr. HEFFERNAN. The Chief Clerk, Mr. Eugene White, is recognized.

Mr. WHITE. Mr. Chairman and Mr. Speaker, from the desk I present you with this emblem knowing that you have used it most effectively during this session and preserved order such as has never been seen in the House before.

The SPEAKER. Will you accept my thanks, my hearty thanks to you all, Mr. Chief Clerk, for this beautiful gift.

Mr. MARCUS. Mr. Speaker, members of the House, agreeable as are the sensations with which I recognize this courtesy, yet I cannot refrain at this time from saying a word or two and taking advantage of your time. We all remember that Shakespeare said, the world was a beautiful stage, and that we each played our part thereon. I realize, in line with that expression, that we have all played our parts with the hope and thought that we have done something that may be constructive and for the benefit of the people whom we represent. With that thought in mind, the gentlemen whom we are honoring in the presentation of this gift, has played his part and played it well, our genial friend, Eugene White.

The membership of this House desires to present to you, Mr. White, this magnificent gift. May it be a reminder to you in the years to follow that it carries with it the friendship of the membership of this House and as time rolls on may it help to sweeten your memory of a body that gratefully appreciates your friendship. Whatever you have endeavored to do for us has been greatly appreciated. May you live long and may you long remember these as the happiest days that we have spent together. We wish you nothing but success.

Mr. WHITE. Mr. Marcus, I cannot understand why you should present me with such a beautiful gift. I have done nothing here but my duty. I have tried to look after the interests of the membership of this House as best I knew how. If I have made any mistakes, it has been of the head and not of the heart. I thank you.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Chairman, we have as one of the officers of this House a man of standing, of character and of service. One who not only performs his duty to us faithfully and loyally, but who also performs all the duties of friendship. We have an officer in this House who has never hesitated to travel far and wide, near and all about and all around in the service of each and every member. We appreciate his services. We have in our hearts the most kindly and tender feelings of love and affection and gratitude that friend owes to friend, and as a token of that gratitude we want to present to our dearest and warmest friend, Milton Burgner, this present.

Mr. BURGNER. Thank you.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Chairman, it has often seemed to me as we came here from session to session to perform our duties that we little realize how much the smooth running of the machinery of the House is dependent on one man who sits behind the desk and on all of the men who sit there performing their duties each in his own way. I know not any one of them who holds any greater place in the hearts of the members of the House, than the man who calls these rolls with such rapidity that the ayes are given from A to Z before we can realize that the Speaker has even asked for the roll. He has been here for many years and I feel like saying with the poet, that members may come and members may go, but [illegible] on calling them for ever. So, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, while there have been many gifts that have been suggested and while many things that have been selected, yet it is not the character of the gift but it is the spirit behind it. The Chairman of the Appropriations Committee has received a service of gold, but his service o fgold means nothing more than this service of silver will mean to you in the future, and as it graces your table and lives in the enjoyment of your family, and as it contributes to the daily life of those you love, we trust that in your eyes it will not be knives and forks and other utensils, but that it will be representative of the loving friendship and fellowship of the members of this House.

Mr. HEWITT. Mr. Speaker and Mr. Chairman, I have stood by this piece of mahogany a good many years. I have not much to say but I do wish to say this, our present Speaker and members of the House have "IT".

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. Chairman and members of the House, we have just heard the fine and pleasant things said to my very good friend, Quay Hewitt. It is needless to say that his assistant by efficient work has endeared himself to the hearts and minds of each and every one of us. I am referring to Mr. Martin. No matter what it was that you were interested in as to how you might have been registered as voting, it was never too much trouble for him to go and find out for you. His little acts of kindness and his desire to call each name slowly and clearly so that we could hear him has been appreciated, and I say the gift we are about to bestow upon him only shows our friendship and feeling toward him in a modest manner. On behalf of the members of this House, it gives me great pleasure Mr. Martin to present you with this clock.

Mr. MARTIN. Mr. Speaker and Mr. Chairman, I wish to thank you for this gift. As I gaze upon it there is a mind picture passing before me. I can see myself sitting in the living room at home and as this clock ticks off the seconds I can hear myself saying "Adams, Ella; Adams, Paul; Aston; Baily; Baker; Baldi," and I know that I will not miss a tick for the 208. That is a mind picture. While I am doing that I may be compelled to come back here, some of you men may ask for an alibi. I may hesitate, while Mrs. Martin is sitting there, on G or K or P and to Pennock. But I am carrying something else with me and that is the picture that is lower down in my heart: Friends you are true wool and a yard wide. Mrs. Martin and I thank you for this gift.

Mr. HAINES. Mr. Chairman and Speaker and members of the House, I consider it an honor to be called upon at this time to address one who so long ago endeared himself to the membership of the House of Representatives; I refer to our parlimentarian, Mr. James N. Moore.

Mr. Moore, it is with pleasure, on behalf of my colleagues, that I present you with this small token of our esteem. The form of the ring is emblematic of a belief you have, that of faith, charity and benevolence. We hope that you may wear it for a long time to come.

Mr. MOORE. Mr. Chairman and members, I thank you very much for this gift.

Mr. BART RICHARDS. Mr. Speaker, Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen, those of you who are familiar with Julius Caesar will remember that when Mark Anthony went over to see Cleopatria, after the boys had taken him for a ride, she said to him: "Very good, Pat." The reason she called him Pat was because his name was Martin. However, were those historians writing the history of to-day they would say: "Very good, Eddie."

Those of you who have sat here for several sessions know that all the genius is not on the Speaker's dias, neither is it in the roll call. Some of the brightest minds, and I refer to one which is the brightest mind perhaps, is located back of the desk. The praises of the one to whom I refer have been unsung, his work is outstanding, and his voice has not been heard. His work will be one of the bright spots in every session in which he is a member of the official force. I refer to my good friend, Eddie Moore. Eddie Moore is the historian of this House, and the one thing I ask Eddie to do in writing that history is to gloss over some of the things we have done, and some of the things we have left undone.

In the morning, in the future when you are not nearly as rushed as you are now, you can turn over and say to Mrs. Moore, "Dear, we have plenty of time, because the 'best people' have given me a clock."

Mr. EDWARD MOORE. Mr. Chairman and members of the House, speaking of history, I had a very interesting experience two weeks ago at the Penn-Harris hotel. I was talking to a Scotchman, a friend of mine, and he was criticising severely the action of the legislature in passing the four cent gas tax. After his criticism had ended, I asked him why he was so much opposed to the passage of the four cent gas tax when he did not own an automobile. "Well, that is true," he said, "I don't own an automobile, but I do own a cigarette lighter."

That was a strange co-incidence because that same gentleman, in 1911, after the school code had been passed and had become a law, took his children out of school because they had to pay attention.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it is needless for me to say how much I have enjoyed the session of 1929. I don't think I deserve as beautiful a gift as this. I do thank the members of the House and want them to know that I appreciate it very much. On behalf of Mrs. Moore and myself, I thank you all and I hope that in 1931 your constituents will all realize the importance of sending you back.

Mr. GOEHRING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it doesn't make a bit of difference where you go, you always find a Queen. I want to say to you that we all have found one right here in Harrisburg. We have a Queen here, who by her wonderful disposition and her wonderful kindness toward us all, has won our kindliest feelings. The vine of her personality is entwined around our hearts, and although laden with flowers shall never trail upon the ground. I want to present to Miss Barnett, our stately Queen, this little present.

Mr. TALBOT. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in so far as the 1929 session of the Pennsylvania Legislature is concerned our work is at an end. We have had our work, we have had our play, and we come now to say "Goodbye". It becomes my distinct pleasure to present to a man who has performed faithful services for fifty years as the Chief Page of this House, a token of our esteem and respect, and so Clarence, on behalf of the members of this House, I present to you this gift.

Mr. SEILER. Mr. Speaker and Mr. Chairman, I thank you.

Mr. HAWS. Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House, supplementing the remarks of the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Talbot, I have the great pleasure of presenting to Mr. Seiler on behalf of his official family, over whom he exercises such great authority—because you have all noticed anytime Clarence says anything to any of his boys, they do just as they please—but they think so much of Clarence for allowing them to do as they please that they have requested me to present him with this slight token of their esteem.

Mr. HEFFERNAN. I take the honor upon myself of presenting to Davey Thomas, a good friend of mine and a good friend of every member of the House, this little token, with the hope that he will continue to be with us for a long, long time.

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. Speaker and Mr. Chairman and members of the House, ladies and gentlemen, for seventeen years I have been connected with the Pennsylvania Legislature. There are two days in my legislative career which I always set aside one with a great deal of pleasure, and the other with a great deal of sorrow. The first day is the day of the reorganization of the House, when we come back and meet our old friends and make new acquaintanceships, and the second day is the day when the gavel falls sine die and we must say "Goodbye" to one another. During the two years that have gone by some of the members have passed out, but what makes it nice is when you come back to meet your old friends of two years hence. I sincerely hope that each and every member comes back two years from now.

Mr. HEFFERNAN. The members of the House have not forgotten the page boys. I will call their names and each will receive a gift of ten dollars: John Deliman, Harold Sweet, Virgil Sariano, Howard Hanson, Samuel Gray, Myer Raffel, Ross Sheesley, George Miller, Edwin O. Feass, Harry Michlovitz, Norman C. Fisher, Frank S. Ford, Bernard Gallagher, Douglass Phillips, Isiah Cartwright, Christian Greider, W. K. Rainey, Martin Piersol, John Brown.

We also have a gentleman who looks after the "mike", Mr. Alborn, and the boys give this to you, sir, with great pleasure.

Mr. Bain, one of the Official Reporters, a good big fellow, gets a good big ring.

Mr. JOHN M. BAIN. Mr. Speaker and Mr. Chairman, may I say that we who have the pleasure and the privilege of serving you always enjoy the good fellowship and appreciate the many ties of friendship that we form, not only among our fellow employes, but among the members. I thank you very much.

Mrs. KIRKBRIDE. Mr. Chairman and members of the House, I am always so happy when I see a woman succeed in any line of work which she undertakes. We have a woman here who has worked quietly and steadfastly and accurately with us all during this session. She has been the personification of kindness and courtesy. The members of the House desire to express to her at this time their appreciation in a tangible form, a beautifully fitted bag. I hope that she will remember that we are very proud of her and very happy to have had her with us during this session.

Mrs. SCHAFER. Mr. Chairman and members of the House, several times during the session I wished for the privilege of being able to speak, but I am a firm believer in the old adage, "Better late than never." I don't know whether the members of the House expect me to become a globe trotter or not, but if you see me standing on the highway this is the reason. All I can say is, thank you, good luck, and goodbye.

Mr. HEFFERNAN. We present to Mr. Ray L. Epping this clock.

Mr. McDowell, an Assistant in the Resident Clerk's office, is presented with this clock.

It gives me a great deal of pleasure to present this clock to the Chief Official Reporter of the House, Mr. E. E. Moyer.

To Mr. Kline, one of the Desk Clerks, we present this stick pin.

To Mr. Kauffman, Mr. Burgner's Assistant, who has been working at the desk, we present this stick pin.

Mr. KAUFFMAN. I greatly appreciate this kindness and it will always serve to bring to my mind many pleasant experiences of the session of 1929.

Mrs. PITTS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it affords me a great deal of pleasure on behalf of the members of this House to present this watch to Mr. Morris Garvin and to wish him every pleasure in life.

Mr. GARVIN. Mr. Chairman and members of the House, I thank you kindly.

Mr. HEFFERNAN. An assistant to Mr. Burgner, for many years, Mr. Dale Meals, we regret sincerely is laying on a bed of illness and is not here and has not been here much during the session, we are sending to him a little envelope which I will ask Mr. Burgner to see that he receives.

To the Postmaster and the Assistants there is each a remembrance, one for Mr. Bush, Mr. Jamison and Mr. Colvin.

Miss GRIMES. I have always been greatly disturbed about not having a waste basket and I don't like the cuspidors on the floor but someone in spite of them keeps the House clean. Everything is nice and fresh and clean, when we come back in the morning. We all know that the Custodian of the House, Mr. Hopkins, is responsible for keeping the House in that orderly condition when we come back, and I want to present to him this token of our esteem.

Mr. HOPKINS. Mr. Speaker and Chairman, and ladies and gentlemen of the House, I don't know where I could get words enough to express the appreciation of your kindness in presenting to me at this time a gift of this kind. I am glad today because I have had the privilege of being the custodian of the Hall of the House for a period of ten years and I am glad because I have always felt that I have had a duty to perform to each member who is elected throughout the confines of the Commonwealth. Today we are going to separate and you are going to your homes, the best way I can express my appreciation is to say, when you get home you can always remember that Dave will be here, and as you send your friends from any part of the State of Pennsylvania to Harrisburg send them to Dave and Dave will take the best care possible of them. I want to thank you from the bottom of my heart. I wish you all good luck and a speedy return in 1931, and hope we shall meet again. I thank you.

Mr. HOWE. Mr. Speaker, Chairman and members of House, when it comes twelve o'clock and we adjourn sine die, we will leave here with pleasant memories of our good friend, the clerk to the Speaker, Mr. Harry E. Grove, and on behalf of the committee, I present him with this token.

Mr. GROVE. Mr. Chairman and members of the House, I extend my many thanks for this beautiful gift. I assure you it has been a great pleasure to be here and to enjoy your fellowship during this session.

Mr. HEFFERNAN. It gives me pleasure to present gifts to Frank D. Bowman, W. W. Johnson, George Offenbacher, Alex P. Robinson, Frank J. Turano, and Miss Britannia Eby.

Mr. C. C. A. BALDI. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I hold in my hand four envelopes, and I hope that the contents will be sufficient for the recipients to find their way to Philadelphia. If they get to Philadelphia and they cannot find their way about, I will see to it that they get back safely. It is a great pleasure for me to call for the four stenographers of the House, Mrs. Cohen, Mrs. Lind, Miss Moore and Miss First.

Mr. FRED A. BELL. Mr. Chairman and members of the House, I don't know why they called on the silent member of this House to make a presentation at this time. It is a great pleasure for me to stand here and make this presentation to a very efficient man, who has helped each and every member in this legislative session and in many sessions that have passed, and gone, the Honorable Mr. Fertig.

Mr. FERTIG. Mr. Chairman and members of the House, this has been the tenth session that I have been connected with the Pennsylvania Legislature, and I can say that this has been one of the most efficient sessions that it has been my privilege to serve. Not only have the members introduced good legislation, but the House has been composed of a high personnel and I think that the laws which have been passed this session, and will be approved by the Governor, will be for the good of the Commonwealth. I feel a little different than my friend, Davy Thomas, on this occasion. Davy says that when the session begins he is happy and when the session closes he is sad. But I feel just the opposite. I am sad when it opens and happy when it closes. Nevertheless, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I want to thank you for what you have done for me and for this gift. I appreciate it very much.

Mr. PEELOR. Mr. Speaker, Chairman and members of the Legislature, it is many years ago that one of the great statesmen of our country arose in his place in the United States Congress, when they were endeavoring to solve an intricate and difficult problem and said he believed man could not do it alone and suggested that they invoke the spirit of the Divine in solving that problem. It was promptly done and in every legislative body in our nation today these assemblies are opened by invoking the presence of the Divine.

It is with a very great deal of pleasure that I have the opportunity of calling attention at this particular time to that service which has been rendered daily to this body, but I want to be distinctly understood that the gentleman to whom the gift is to be made is not to be discharged at this particular time. His services have been rendered and the services were well rendered, but some of us may need him in the future, to appear in our behalf before our constitutents, especially those of us who voted for the four cent gasoline tax and the fire-arms bills. I want it distinctly understood that when this gift is handed to him it is not with the thought that it is a permanent dismissal but with an invitation from each of us, with a request, that he visit us back home; that he will come and render to us and possibly assist some of us in coming back so that we may associate with this splendid body of people which it has been my pleasure to associate with. I am going to hand to him something that may be of very little value, but I am handing him something that will contain an expression of the good will and good feeling that we have for that one who has most certainly performed his duty and has invoked the Divine presence in this body in the days that have gone by.

Dr. SCHWEITZER. Mr. Speaker, Chairman, ladies and gentlemen of this wonderful House of Representatives, it is not my purpose to make an extended speech, but this is the first time I have had an opportunity of preaching to this honorable body; I have always prayed before. I want to say to you that I appreciate the opportunity of having been here; that I never had a finer friendship and never met a finer body of men and women. This experience will be a bright and beautiful spot in my life. I wish you God speed. I thank you for your many kindly inspirations to me, and I hope that each and every one of you in some way will get back to the same position that they enjoy here to-day. I extend to you my heartfelt thanks and best wishes.

Mr. HEFFERNAN. This gold service was presented last night at the Penn-Harris Hotel by myself and other members of the Appropriation Committee to the chairman of that Committee, the Honorable C. J. Goodnough. It was a great pleasure to present to him this beautiful gift, and we hope he will enjoy it for many, many years.

Mr. GOODNOUGH. Mr. Speaker, Mr. Chairman and members of the House, at the Appropriation Cimmittee banquet last evening, I tried in my poor way to express to that committee my appreciation for this wonderful gift and its great intrinsic value as well as the kindly feeling that prompted it. I can only at this time reiterate what I have said. To the members of the House I desire to express my appreciation for the many courtesies I have received, and assure you of my regard and esteem.

In the House of Representatives, April 18, 1929.

Whereas, The Members of the House of Representatives were elected to come to Harrisburg to represent the voters of their district in considering legislation that would come before the House, and

Whereas, The failure of the committees to report out all bills to the House prevented the Members of the House from giving any consideration to bills that were introduced to improve the welfare of the citizens of Pennsylvania, therefore be it

Resolved, That it is the concensus of opinion of the Members of this House that the people would receive greater consideration on bills in the session of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one if the Members of the House of Representatives of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, and all organizations would prepare their bills in time so they can introduce them during the first month of the one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one session of the Legislature, and be it further

Resolved, That it is our opinion that both the Members and the people would be benefited if the House of Representatives for the session of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one would adopt the following rules:
